

Artists Bracket Ganoderma applanatum [Phillips (2006) p306] [ECSS visit No.36.] Occasional, on the trunks of deciduous trees, especially beech causing intensive white rot. Perennial, the new growth is the lowest layer. This one on a long dead fallen beech (1987) in Compartment SW1, 2012. Not edible.

